Toasted marshmallow shake at Good Stuff Eatery

The smoky-sweet taste of a campfire s'more is captured in liquid form at celeb chef Spike Mendelsohn's Good Stuff Eatery, where, since 2008, many a Capitol Hill office worker has waited in queue for the hand-spun, uberthick shake laced with real charred marshmallows and sour cream. "It took every ounce of class in me not to stick my fingers in the shake to grab the mallow," wrote Shari Grunspan of Florida, who nominated this sweet little number for Washington's most essential eat. "Class lost. Mallow won." (303 Pennsylvania Ave. SE. 202-543-8222. www.goodstuffeatery.com.)

NEED HELP FAST? WHEN AND HOW TO HIRE A DEV SHOP

Debates rage on whether companies who outsource all or parts of their development can be successful or not. In a perfect world you would have a brilliant in-house team that crushes features faster than you can think them up and has previous experience building similar systems. In reality this almost never happens. While long-term reliance on a development shop probably isn't a great strategy there are a few situations where short-term engagements make sense.

You need help getting to that next major milestone

Heads up! Your timer stopped!

What is it?

The Pomodoro Technique® is a way to get the most out of time management. Turn time into a valuable ally to accomplish what we want to do and chart continuous improvement in the way we do it. Francesco Cirillo created the Pomodoro Technique® in the 1980s. It is now practiced by professional teams and individuals around the world.

What?

This is a simple pomodoro timer. It was build so I could learn more about web development. This is some

What do I need to start?

A kitchen timer

You can use either a real timer (we love the "Pomodoro" kind) or a software timer. Set it to 25 minutes.

A sheet of paper

Blank paper is good, lined paper is better, pre-printed Pomodoro paper is the best!

A pencil

An eraser is also a plus!

How can I start?

The basic unit of work in the Pomodoro Technique® can be split in five simple steps:

1. Choose a task to be accomplished
2. Set the Pomodoro to 25 minutes (the Pomodoro is the timer)
3. Work on the task until the Pomodoro rings, then put a check on your sheet of paper
4. Take a short break (5 minutes is OK)
5. Every 4 Pomodoros take a longer break
