Pretzel Chocolate Chip Cookies

When I first saw this recipe floating around Pinterest I knew that I had to try it - and had to try to make it better. I've adapted the original recipe with my foolproof better chocolate chip cookies to create these incredible cookies. They were such a hit in our house that my kids couldn't even let me take a photo of them without grabbing another. You can easily double this recipe.

Prep: 20 min   Chill: 1 hour   Cook: 25 min   Total: 1 hour 45 min   Yields 9 giant cookies

----

1 stick unsalted butter, softened
½ cup packed brown sugar
⅓ cup granulated sugar
In a mixing bowl, using an electric mixer, beat butter and both sugars just until creamy.

1 large egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Add the egg and vanilla and beat just until incorporated.

8 ounces (about 1 ½ cups) all purpose flour
½ teaspoon coarse sea salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
Stir together flour, baking soda, baking powder and salt. When thoroughly mixed, add to batter and stir well, stopping just as the dry and wet ingredients begin to incorporate and the dough is still very dusty white.
